

Tibetan Language at Maitripa College Summer 2025: Colloquial and Classical

COLLOQUIAL TIBETAN FOR DHARMA STUDENTS

Dr. Namdrol Adams and Native Tibetan speakers

May 19 – May 30

Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday: 10 am–12 pm PDT

Online Only

A unique opportunity to learn basic conversational spoken Tibetan in Tibetan Buddhist environments, with an emphasis on the Lhasa dialect. There will be no written component and no prior knowledge of Tibetan is required.

Visit the website for details and link to register :

maitripa.org/colloquial-tibetan-2025

CLASSICAL TIBETAN LANGUAGE SUMMER INTENSIVE

Dr. Patrick Lambelet and Sam Go

June 16–August 8

Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday: 10 am–12 pm PDT

In-Person and Online Options; Take One or Both Parts

This course is designed for students wishing to acquire a solid foundation in scriptural, classical Tibetan, with a focus on reading and translating Buddhist texts. The goal is to be able to read and understand simple Tibetan sentences in Buddhist texts by the end of this intensive.

Part 1: June 16– July 11, Patrick Lambelet, PhD

Foundations of classical Tibetan, beginning with the alphabet, and learning the basics of pronunciation, writing, word formation, and reading of simple phrases and sentences.

Part 2: July 14–August 8, Sam Go

Part 2: Grammar, syntax, and vocabulary of classical Tibetan.

Visit the website for details on credit, attendance, tuition, payment, and link to register :

maitripa.org/tibetan-summer-intensive

